QE Index <.QSI> closed at 8,458.32 point. The psychological level at 8,000 point arrested additional weaknesses two times, while failing to maintain a close above it will deepen the bearish move to 7,500 point and maybe lower to 7,000 point. On the positive side, some attempts to inch upward could be seen on the short-term period as the weekly RSI indicator is reading below the 30 level, knowing that a break above 8,600 point will promote 8,800 point and maybe 9,100 point.

Medium-term and long-term investors can re-enter the market above 10,000 point and 10.100 point, respectively.

Qatar International Islamic Bank

Reuters Ticker: <QIIB.QA>

Price closed at QAR7.570. The stock rebounded after reaching the lower end of the 40-months ascending trend line but remains below its MAs on the weekly chart. It is still early to anticipate an end to the bearish move but a cross above QAR7.570 will be a positive sign that should lead to further gains to QAR8.000 and maybe more to QAR8.400. However, only losing the recent low at QAR6.300 will deepen the negative tone and lead to QAR4.900.

Commercial Bank of Qatar

Reuters Ticker: <COMB.QA>

Price closed at QAR3.851. The negative bias remains as the stock continues to move within the negative territory. A fall below the recent support line at QAR3.710 will increase the downside risk to QAR3.500 and QAR2.900. On the other side, managing to close above the tiny resistance level at QAR4.300 will most likely promote further strength to QAR4.800 but only above QAR5.100 will confirm a new bull trend.

Qatar Navigation Co.

Reuters Ticker: <QNNC.QA>

Price closed at QAR4.840. The stock found support at QAR4.610 as the negative tone remains, while a dip below this will bring back to focus the critical horizontal line at QAR4.080 (low of year 2009), at which some buying activity is expected to take place. However, the nearby resistance levels are located at QAR5.100, QAR5.660 but only above QAR6.000 will decrease the downside risk and lead to QAR6.750.

Barwa Real Estate Co.

Reuters Ticker: <BRES.QA>

Price closed at QAR3.027. The strong support level at QAR2.740 (low of year 2017) rejected additional losses but the upward momentum is still not enough to confirm an end to the bearish move; however, a firm close below this will lead to the low of year 2013 at QAR2.280. On the other side, a jump over the resistance level at QAR3.270 could attract further strength to QAR3.680.

Definitions

Technical Analysis: Aims to identify the direction of prices and reveal any indication of possible changes as soon as possible, so it can be used as much as possible in making buying and selling decisions in the most appropriate time in order to minimize risk and maximize profits.

Trend: The general direction of a market or of the price of an asset.

Resistance: A chart point or range that caps an increase in the level of a stock or index over a period of time.

Support: The price level which, historically, a stock has had difficulty falling below. It is thought of as the level at which a lot of buyers tend to enter the stock.

Breakout: A signal that prices are beginning to trend, either upward or downward.

Bull: An investor who thinks the market, a specific security or an industry is likely to rise.

Bear: An investor who thinks the market, a specific security or an industry is likely to decline.

Channel: is two parallel trend lines either rising or declining.

Consolidation Area: is a sideways movement in prices that interrupts or reverse a trend.

Moving Average (MA): The most common applications of MAs are to identify the trend direction and to determine support and resistance levels.

MACD (Moving Average Convergence-Divergence): A trend-following momentum indicator that shows the relationship between two moving averages of prices.

Relative Strength Index: A technical momentum indicator (ranges from 0 to 100) that compares the magnitude of recent gains to recent losses in an attempt to determine overbought and oversold conditions of an asset.

Overbought: A situation in which the price of a security has risen to such a degree that an oscillator has reached its upper bound. This is generally interpreted as a sign that the price of the asset is becoming overvalued and may experience a pullback.

Oversold: A situation in which the price of a security has fallen to such a degree that an oscillator has reached its lower bound. This is generally interpreted as a sign that the price of the asset is becoming undervalued and may represent a buying opportunity for investors.

Fibonacci: A term refers to areas of support or resistance and to help identify strategic places for transactions to be placed, target prices or stop losses.

On Balance Volume (OBV): is a simple running total of up day (added) and down day (subtracted) volume. If OBV is moving with price, it confirms the current trend. Divergences between OBV and price indicates the price may be due for a reversal.
